The Internet has dramatically altered the way many people perform numerous tasks, and recently it has 11 an important tool used by those working for political and humanitarian reform. The ongoing struggle for democracy in Indonesia underscores the 12 of the Internet. Last spring, protesters bypassed the state-controlled media there by posting a Web site containing a database that kept 13 the corruption of then president Suharto. People across the country 14 continually adding information about the accumulated wealth of the president and his children, knowledge of 15 fueled an already inflammatory situation. Students also relied on the Internet to coordinate their demonstrations, which eventually led to Suharto's resignation.

四、閱讀測驗

A Western-style conversation between two people is like a game of tennis. If I introduce a topic, a conversational ball, I expect you to hit it back. If you agree with me, I don't expect you simply to agree and do nothing more. I expect you to add something – a reason for agreeing, another example, or an elaboration to carry the idea further. But I don't expect you always to agree. I am just as happy if you question me, or challenge me, or completely disagree with me. Whether you agree or disagree, your response will return the ball to me.

And then it is my turn again. I don't serve a new ball from my original starting line. I hit your ball back again from where it has bounced. I carry your idea further, or answer your questions or objections or challenge or question you. And so the ball goes back and forth, with each of us doing our best to give it a new twist, an original spin, or a powerful smash.

And the more vigorous the action, the more interesting and exciting the game. Of course, if one of us gets angry, it spoils the conversation, just as it spoils a tennis game. But getting excited is not at all the same as getting angry. After all, we are not trying to hit each other. We are trying to hit the ball. So long as we attack only each other's opinions, and do not attack each other personally, we don't expect anyone to get hurt. A good conversation is supposed to be interesting and exciting.

【2】16. What could be the title of this article?

- ① A game of tennis ② Conversational ballgames
③ Exciting games ④ Opinions are opinions

【1】17. According to the article, if you agree with the speaker's points in a dialogue, what is expected from you?

- ① To do more. ② To do nothing. ③ To smile. ④ To simply say so.

【4】18. What happens if you disagree with the speaker in the conversation?

- ① She will be angry. ② She would not believe in it.
③ It is a challenging issue to her. ④ It is acceptable to her.

【3】19. How does the writer of this article describe the interaction seen in the paragraphs?

- ① It is as a new ball from the starting line. ② It is a ball smashed on the ground.
③ It is like a ball going back and forth. ④ It looks as if it is a spinning ball.

【1】20. How can we make sure the interaction is successful?

- ① Nobody gets hurt. ② Nobody listens to each other.
③ Nobody hits the ball. ④ Nobody gets excited.
